Hearing Sept. 30 On Special Zoning Rules, Areas

Apartment Area Included

A public hearing on six Planning Board articles — including the controversial garden apartment area — will be held Sept. 30 at 7:30 in the Selectmen's office.

The Board unanimously adopted five of the articles and, by a four to one vote, approved the garden apartment zoning for inclusion in the warrant. Atty. Walter Tomlinson abstained from the vote on rules and regulations for the area and on the vote to insert an article zoning a specific area. Members Archibald D. MacLaren Jr., Virginia Hammond and John N. Cole, with Chairman Donald Thompson, voted for the apartment articles.

Following a public hearing, the Board is required by law to reach a decision on each article and make this report available to town meeting. The Board can approve the articles, change them slightly, but not in substance, or vote to withdraw any or all of them. Members of the Board may also issue minority reports on any articles where a difference of opinion occurs.

Urban Renewal Area Shrunk

A drastically-reduced urban renewal project area — embracing roughly the area east of Main St. bounded by Elm, Summer, Whittier and Chestnut sts. — was the subject of discussion Monday night at the Urban Renewal Committee session.

And that Committee placed the burden of an early application squarely in the laps of the Selectmen.

Temporary Chairman Wallace M. Haselton told the group that the government has curtailed its activities, basing the amount of possible assistance on the population of the community. Andover's

The School Committee has publicly praised head custodian Fred L. Collins for his devotion to duty and the excellent condition of the school buildings.

A school custodian for 35 years, he has been head man for 20 years. Supt. Edward I. Erickson proposed the citation, which was approved and spread on the records of the Committee.

Bloodmobile Here Oct. 6-7; Donor Drive Begins Today

As the Andover Red Cross begins today a week-long campaign to recruit donors for the Bloodmobile visit of Oct. 6 and 7, it is observing the 10th anniversary of the Bloodmobile program.

Two volunteers, Colonel Frank Purdon and Mrs. Leon Field, have been with the program from its start.

Col. Purdon, who settled in Andover when he retired from the army in 1946, was the first recruitment chairman and served for many years in that capacity. He organized the first residential drive, composed the registration cards, set up a file and a system for analyzing results. He pioneered in arranging Bloodmobile visits to industries. Now the veteran member of the Blood committee, invaluable for his knowledge of past experience, he is in charge of enlisting donors from

Appeals Board In 3 Decisions

Two variances have been granted and another denied by the zoning board of appeals.

Denied was the petition of Alphee E. Letourneau for a variance to allow the location of a single family dwelling on back land in the rear of a lot owned by Letourneau on the west side of Osgood st. The board granted a variance to Marion E. Matthews to divide land at 10 Marland st. into two lots and to Joseph W. and Joan E. Watson to build a house on two lots of land with frontage and area less than by-law requirements.

In the Letourneau case the board found that it was without authority to grant the variance since the provisions of the by-law would not allow it. It would, in effect, be an amendment to the zoning by-law which is prohibited.

The petitioner proposed a drive-

Rand Gesing, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce C. Gesing of Rattlesnake Hill rd., left this week for Amherst College in Amherst, where he will start his freshman year. He received two scholarships from local organizations - Servicemen's Fund and Legion Auxiliary; and received a scholarship from Amherst. Rand was active in students affairs while at Andover High, receiving his varsity letter in football and track, and holding membership in many of the school clubs.

way of 10 feet in width to provide access to the house which would be located in the rear of the lot. The proposed house, however, would have no frontage on Osgood st., the board found.

In granting a variance to Marion E. Matthews, the board found that literal enforcement of the zoning by-law would involve substantial hardship, financial and otherwise to the petitioner. It also stated that the variance could be granted without substantially derogating from the intent and purpose of the zoning by-laws.

Evidence presented at the hearing pointed out that dividing the lot into two lots would leave one with a frontage of 80 feet and the other with a frontage of 100 feet. Side lines, however, would remain the same.

The subject of the Watson petition, building houses on each of two lots with frontage less than required, was previously denied by the board of appeals in February, 1955.

In the decision given by the board of appeals, it is noted that adjacent lots fulfill the requirements of the zoning by-law. The area is located on Lowell st.

The decision read, "The board finds that because of the nature of the highway upon which the lots are located, and because they are comparable in frontage to adjoining lots, a literal enforcement of the zoning by-law would involve substantial hardship, financial and otherwise to the petitioners". It further states, "to deny the relief requested would result in an economic loss of desirable property, both to the petitioners and to the town". Granting of the relief would not impair the value of neighboring properties, the board stated.

Presented at the hearing and acting on the petitions were Atty. Joseph F. Bacigalupo, acting chairman; Edward P. Hall, secretary and Robert S. Zollner, associate member of the board.

Change Classes To Meet Overcrowding

Several changes have been instituted by the school department, based on overcrowding in the elementary schools during the first week of operation.

Three teachers will be transferred and one additional teacher has been hired to make the changes effective. Large classes in some of the schools made the changes necessary, it was explained.

Mrs. Barbara Smith of Red Spring rd., has been appointed a teacher in the elementary grades to facilitate the program. A graduate of Boston Teachers College, Mrs. Smith has done practice teaching in the local school system. Her salary will be $3,800. Mrs. Smith will teach one class in the South School kindergarten and one in the Central School.

Beginning Monday there were three kindergarten classes at the Central School, with 22 pupils each. In the third grade at the same school, the classes were consolidated to three of 30 pupils each. There were four classes of 20 or more pupils, totalling 90 enrolled in the particular grade.

At the South School, two kin-

Transfers in personnel to effect the classroom changes included: Mrs. Maureen T. Mangiaglia, from the sixth grade at the Central School to the third grade at the South School. Mrs. Mangiaglia had two years of third grade teaching experience before joining the Andover school system. Miss Helen Thompson moved from the third grade of the Central School to the sixth grade. Miss Lesley Jane Westfall transferred from the kindergarten in the Central School, to the first grade of the South School.

Dr. John P. Gainey explained that the changes are being made to effect a better balance in the classrooms and allow for a better educational opportunity for the youngsters.

Enrollment figures on the first day of school which showed a record school population of 3,114, will be revised in another week, with the final total expected to be revised upward.

positive elements. This, I think, is to be regretted, for it is through the positive contributions of many individuals that an organization is both effective and efficient.

"Within this context, I should like to call to your attention the service performed for the school system by Mr. Fred Collins, head custodian, who for many years has made an invaluable contribution for the school system.

"That the several school custodians deserve a word of praise for the fine condition of the various school buildings is also true. It should be remembered, however, that the task of maintaining our entire school plant is under the directorship of Mr. Collins.

"Included in Mr. Collins responsibilities are the distribution of the services of the custodian staff; planning and inspecting the cleaning and painting in all the school buildings; attending to minor repairs; attending to the many adjustments made necessary by new school buildings such as the transfer of supplies, books, and all manner of equipment.

"These responsibilities are particularly pressing during the summer months, for this is the time when major effort must be expended.

"This year, as in other years, our schools open doors to over three thousand Andover children. The appearance and condition of the buildings provide an important part in the total learning situation for these many boys and girls. That these conditions are as good as they are is due in no small measure to Mr. Collins. His commitment to his work represents both a contribution to the education of our boys and girls and a saving of many thousands of dollars to the citizens of the community.

"It would be my sincere hope that Mr. Collins will continue what has been and is an effective and happy association with the school system."

Accident Review To Find Repeaters

Continuing his strong enforcement campaign to remove from the highways improper motor vehicle operators, Registrar of Motor Vehicles Clement A. Riley today announced a firm policy with respect to accident repeaters.

All accidents reported to the Registry of Motor Vehicles, whether personal injury or property damage or both, will be carefully examined by a specially trained group of Accident Review Hearings Officers to determine whether or not the operators involved are accident-prone as indicated by a series of accidents. Such repeaters may expect to be notified of a hearing before a special Accident Review Hearings Officer to determine whatever action may be necessary.

The Registrar hopes that this activity will be helpful in removing from the highways operators who may be able to pass an examination, but nevertheless constitute a menace to themselves and other highway users.

Top Vision Now A Must

In another drastic move to reduce highway traffic accidents for the protection of citizens of the Commonwealth, Registrar Clement A. Riley, Chairman of the Massachusetts Highway Safety Committee, has approved a change in the vision test for driver license examinations.

He has ordered his examiners to require applicants for a license to pass a minimum 20/40 visual acuity test.

Visual acuity as it relates to the automobile driver, simply means that applicants must be able to read signs and see people or objects at a safe distance.

The new minimum standard means that an applicant must have 40 per cent better eyesight than previously required. Any applicant who fails to meet this new standard will not be issued a license until his vision has been investigated and any defects remedied.

Twenty-eight states have adopted this 20/40 minimum standard as recommended by the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators and the Motorists Vision Committee of the American Optometric Association.

Given Approval On New Ladder

Fire Chief Henry L. Hilton has received authority from the Selectmen to replace the damaged aerial ladder.

The American LaFrance Co. of Elmira, N. Y. will supply a ladder equivalent to the one which was recently damaged. The firm had estimated this cost at $4,900 plus installation. The ladder will be specially built to meet specifications of 20 years ago, when the equipment was manufactured.

The firm had submitted that proposal, plus two others for consideration. One involved about $12,000 to install a completely new ladder, built to present-day specifications. The other was for $2,500 to replace the buckled section of the ladder.

Delivery of the ladder can be expected in about six or eight weeks, Hilton estimated. Installation will take but a short time. It includes a complete check of the hydraulic system and placement of new cables.

It is expected that the unit will be in working order by December. At present, the ladder, truck is being used without the aerial facility.

Physical Education Assignments Made

The School Committee approved recommended assignments in the Physical Education Department, during a meeting Sept. 16. Donald D. Dunn, supervisor of the Department, also told the Committee that practice teaching is a good source of qualified men and women. For several years the

Some of the assignments, such as the football coaches, are already in effect, with the committee approving the salary. Robert V. McIntyre, head football coach, will receive a salary of $1,000, with J. V. coach, Drummond Bissett receiving $400, Joseph Normandy, $375 for freshman football and Richard Sterndale, seventh and eighth grade football, $250.

Other assignments included: Richard L. Thornton, cross-country, $150; cheerleader, Sally Marshall, $75; soccer, Theodore Steves, $150; boys' intramurals, Theodore Boudreau, $75; Junior high cheerleader coach, A. McMahon, $50. ## EDITORIAL THOUGHTS Needed: Clean Tax Dollars

The importance of industrial growth — as a source of what may be termed "clean" tax dollars — has never been more apparent. Home owners in this community certainly must see this, as they, for the first time, are called upon to pay their share of the full cost of government.

Indeed, all over the state the same cry has gone up. For Andover taxpayers have much the same problem as their brethren. The small real estate taxpayer is paying a tremendous portion of the cost of government in most small communities — and in some larger ones — because there is no other source of income.

The industrial-residential balance has been destroyed. No longer are there enough industries in the communities, including Andover.

And what do we do about it?

Little, all too little.

It was revealing to see a news story in a Boston newspaper on this subject. Experts were quoted as criticizing the communities, and the state, for spending money on hoopla without possessing, first, the basic selling tools facts. In substance, the article said that too many industrial commissions are spending municipal dollars on expensive brochures, lavish advertising campaigns and on general good will. Meanwhile, these commissions are spending little or nothing on proving their claims. They have few, if any, facts on their local industrial areas — no substantial surveys of existing or planned services, roads, utilities and the many other facts needed by any industry seeking a home.

This, we regret to point out, is true of Andover.

While we have spent no money on advertising — we have also failed to provide a real survey of the industrial areas. We have, as far as can be learned, no firm plans for developing the areas.

The facts needed by an industry seeking a location are not readily available and there certainly is no plan for the future as to the eventual construction of services within the areas. But these are facts that any industry would require.

It seems that in Andover we have paid lip service to the demands for industrial growth by zoning areas for industry. We have an industrial commission made up of businessmen and leaders in the community.

But we lack a plan. We have no engineering study of the areas nor data needed in any sales talk with potential developers or industrial concerns.

It's difficult to place the responsibility for this on any person or group. For there is considerable doubt in many minds that the town actually wants industry. Too many times we have seen residents, even, on occasion, town officials, heckle and badger existing industries. And we have heard prominent persons indulge in comments that indicate their basic feelings in this vital matter. An atmosphere of suspicion has been created in some circles, to the point that a firm wishing to come here might be so tied down by regulations, based on suspicion of its future course of action, that it would eventually refuse to locate in the town.

Still the town needs industrial balance — it needs tax dollars from other sources than the small taxpayer.

We should get on the ball; make up our minds to take positive action; then take it — not talk about it.

Their Job Is Worthwhile

It's remarkable how quickly the town has changed from a passive summer existence to the active pace of the fall.

The first working day of September was noted as being exceptionally busy — a sign of the interest and enthusiasm in many local projects. And there are few more enthusiastic workers than those men and women who do publicity work for the many organizations.

It's only fitting, at this beginning of a new fall and winter season, that we should mention the good work done by these folks — unpaid workers for projects or groups. No newspaper could cover the news events of their organizations so thoroughly as they can, themselves. And no newspaper would have the man-power available to attend these meetings and events, recorded so diligently by the volunteer publicity workers.

We welcome their assistance, for we can do our job better with their help.

We might add one further comment — specially for those men and women who never have done this sort of work before. Please stop in and ask us about news deadlines, preparation of copy and related matters. That way, we'll be able to work better together.

Mothers are invited with the children on one of the three afternoons set aside for this get-together; each school will be notified of the date of its party. The children have an opportunity to see the Children's room, to meet the librarian and helpers who will be in the room to work with them, to take out their library cards and to look over the books. There is always a story or two told by Miss Margaret Lane, Children's librarian, and light refreshments. Notices will be sent well in advance of the dates for each group.

She will attend MacMurray in the second year of a new men's college, which last September began its coordinate relationship with the 111-year-old women's college. The term "coordinate", as distinguished from coeducation, means that the two colleges are independent in most academic and campus activities, while sharing social life. For example, classes at the two colleges are separate for men and for women in freshman and sophomore years, although mixed in the final two years.

Miss Reynolds, who will be attending the third oldest women's college in the nation, graduated this year from Andover High School.

houses all over the world in which she has sung her great roles. Born in Salem, in a genial atmosphere of music, she studied piano and voice, graduated from Abbot Academy and Hollins College. Her serious voice study began in New York under the guidance of Maestro Ettore Verna, whom she later married. She made her debut in Italy in 1949, at Milan's Lyric Theatre, as Desdemona in Verdi's "Othello". Armed with an impressive list of credits and rave reviews she returned to the United States. She was engaged by the Philadelphia Civic Opera, the Hartford Opera, and, in addition, concertized in many main cities.

Each year she returned to Europe, adding new roles to her repertoire. She sang in Venice, Rome, Florence, Paris, London, Dublin, Madrid, Cairo, and Lima, Peru. At the Teatro Massimo in Palermo, Sicily, she was chosen to create the leading role in the world premiere of Luzzi's "Pantea".

In 1952 she made her debut with the San Francisco Opera in "Aida", "Suor Angelica", "Il Trovatore", and "Don Giovanni". The year 1954 marked three important events for Miss Curtis. She sang with the City Center Opera Company; was married in Switzerland to Maestro Verna; and made her debut with La Scala in Milan, in Verdi's "Othello".

Her Metropolitan debut in February of 1957 in "Il Trovatore" was an immediate success. The critics were impressed with her large velvety voice, her control, and her artistry. She returned to Europe after her debut and made her appearances in major Italian cities, as well as in Austria. Her repertoire now embraced over 25 roles from the works of Verdi, Puccini, Wagner, Mozart, Giordano and Zandonai.

During the 1957-58 season at the Metropolitan, the highlight of Mary Curtis-Verna's career took place. She was scheduled to sing, "Aida", "Tosca", and "La Forza del Destino". But events took a strange and happy turn for her when, in addition to these scheduled operas, she had to replace Renata Tebaldi, Eleanor Steber and Zinka Milanov on short notice in two "Aida" performances and in "Don Giovanni". Unanimous acclaim from critics and audiences proved that the Metropolitan had added to its roster wonderful new prima donna—a diva in the great tradition.

HEARING SEPT. 30
ON ZONING AREAS

cluding a zoning change on Chestnut st., for which a public hearing was held some days ago. This article is not included in the hearing Sept. 30.

Approved were rules and regulations covering garden apartment areas, motel areas and shopping center areas. The Board also approved articles re-zoning the garden apartment site at the corner of High and Haverhill sts.; two sites for a shopping center on the north and south sides of Route 133 in west Andover; and voted to rescind the zoning of a No. Main st. site for a shopping center. The west Andover sites were approved last March, as was the site on No. Main st. But a legal technicality prevented the zoning from becoming effective. The Schlott property on No. Main st., in an industrial zone, will not be zoned for a shopping center — a use permissible under the industrial zoning.

Garden Apartments
Substantial authority is handed the Appeals Board, under restrictions adopted by the Planning Board for garden apartment areas.

The Board of Appeals, the restrictions state, may, for several reasons, refuse to issue a permit for use of the area.

Atty. Tomlinson, during the Tuesday night meeting, commented that he still does not see how the town can be adequately protected against sub-standard multiple housing. He had previously raised the question, explaining that present development plans might be changed or the property change hands. The Planning Board's consultant agreed that the restrictions do not specifically protect the town against that possibility — but he said that a suggested population — density restriction would not be practical. He pointed out that an owner might live up to the restriction when renting the units, but "then the stork begins to fly and there is little likelihood that any action would be taken". The density provision would have limited the number of persons living in the apartments.

Monday's Hearing
The subject was fully debated last Monday night, as Samuel Rosen, the developer; Joseph Doherty, local real estate agent; and representatives of the developer sat down with the Planning Board, Selectmen and some interested citizens.

At that time, Mr. Rosen explained the project, which he said would answer a very evident need in the community.

At Tuesday night's session — held in the Planning Board office — Mr. Tomlinson said some local real estate agents with whom he and member John Cole had talked did not see the need. He said all but one were of the opinion that the 142 units, in the $120-$140 rental bracket, would not be necessary to meet local demand for apartments.

Mr. Rosen, at Monday's session, told the boards that he is willing to meet reasonable restrictions.

The Selectmen placed themselves on record for the project and, at a later meeting of the Board of Public Works, members commented favorably on it.

Call Hearing On Tree Removals

A public hearing will be held next Monday night at 8:30 in the Board of Public Works office on a request to take down 31 public trees.

The third stage of the Merrimack-Essex Electric Co. power line program calls for removing 20 trees on Ballardvale rd., five on Sunset Rock rd. and six on Spring Grove rd.

Many will be replaced when the project is nearing completion.

The second stage of the program was approved by the BPW Monday night, following a hearing which drew eight residents from Ballardvale.

The Board voted to approve removing 26 trees on the south side of Dascob rd., 12 on Andover st. and 16 on Ballardvale rd. The Electric Co. promised to look further into the removal of a clump of pines at Andover and High sts., with the possibility that they might be saved if at all possible.

The Vale residents Monday night were asking detailed questions about plans for the power line, as well as the tree removals. Representatives of the Electric Co. were present to answer questions and explain the installation of the high voltage system. It was recalled that the firm previously explained that interference by limbs causes an automatic outage on the new lines and that proper service is maintained when possibility of interference from these sources is removed. The firm replaces all trees that are healthy, but does not replace diseased trees or ones believed to be dangerous to traffic, on the grounds that these removals are helpful to the community.

URBAN RENEWAL AREA SHRUNK

potential urban renewal project was cut by two-thirds to meet the newest requirement.

But even this may not be sufficient, he warned, if an application is not filed soon. A backlog of applications has already built up in Washington, coupled with a Congressional decision not to appropriate additional funds. Thus, the meeting was told, it is possible that late-comers may have their applications delayed due to a shortage of federal funds.

The Selectmen were asked to file the application, as the Board did in Wilmington, without town meeting action. Haselton said he could not see how a special article could be inserted in the Oct. 6 town meeting, because the entire application and all the plans had to be re-drawn based on the new requirements.

Under the just-issued directive, Andover would be entitled to $500,000 in federal money — or about one-third of the amount estimated under the original plans.

Haselton explained that an application now does not mean the town must spend any money.

If the application is approved, the government would advance funds for an extensive plan. Then, the town meeting would act on going forward. But if the decision was against proceeding, there never would be any town money involved.

Only after the final plans are approved does the town become involved, the group was reminded.

Dean K. Boorman of Candeb and Fleissig, the planning agency retained by the Merrimack Valley National Bank to prepare the plans, told the members that the area east of Main st. would almost certainly get federal approval — providing the money is available.

He also pointed out that this area includes the town hall and fire station — and that credit for these buildings and the land on which they stand would apply towards the town's share of the urban renewal expenses. This would reduce the amount of cash outlay substantially, he stated.

The problem of filing an application has been under consideration for some time. Various legal opinions have been given, debating whether town meeting must approve filing the application or whether the Selectmen and Housing Authority can do this. In Wilmington, the Selectmen took action. And it was on this basis that Haselton asked the Selectmen to consider doing so here.

Other wise, he stated, the article can't be submitted to the voters before next March. And he felt that money may not be available by then, with a resulting delay in approval by the government. The planning stage, following approval, is about two years, during which detailed and extensive plans are drawn by a professional firm, in consultation with the local authority.

LEGAL NOTICES

ANDOVER SAVINGS BANK
ANDOVER, MASSACHUSETTS
INVITATION FOR BIDS

The Andover Savings Bank, Andover, Massachusetts, will receive sealed proposals for alterations and additions to their North Andover Office at North Andover, Massachusetts.

Proposals shall be based on the work to be completed in strict accordance with drawings, specifications and other documents prepared by Hutchins & French, Architects, 11 Beacon Street, Boston, Massachusetts.

The proposals, in duplicate, together with the drawings, specifications and other documents loaned for estimating purposes, shall be delivered to the Treasurer of the Bank at the main office in Andover not later than 3:00 P.M. on Thursday, October 2, 1958, at which time they will be publicly opened and read.

Plans, specifications and other documents may be obtained at the Architects' office, upon due notice of the intent to prepare a proposal, and the deposit of Fifty Dollars ($50.00) in cash, or a certified check in that amount, payable to Hutchins & French, which deposit will be returned within three days after delivery of the proposal and the return of the documents in satisfactory condition.

Bidders taking the documents and not submitting a proposal will have the deposit refunded less the cost of reproducing the documents. Bidders wishing additional sets may obtain the same at the cost of reproduction and upon agreement to return them to the Architects in good condition before the time set for the receipt of the general contract proposals.

Proposals shall be fully completed upon the forms provided and in accordance with the "Instructions to Bidders". The proposal shall be accompanied by a certified check or bid bond by an approved surety company payable to the Andover Savings Bank in the amount of at least five percent (5%) of the proposal. All such deposits, except those of the three lowest responsible and eligible bidders, will be returned within three days after the time set for the receipt of the proposals. Remaining deposits shall be returned upon the execution and delivery of the contract agreement and bond, or if no award is made, then at the expiration of thirty days after the time set for the receipt of these proposals, unless forfeited by failure to sign the contract as herein provided.

A surety bond, by a company approved by the Bank and in an amount equal to the contract sum, will be required to guarantee the faithful performance of the contract and the payment of all obligations for labor and materials required thereunder. The cost of this bond shall be included in the proposed sum.

The contract shall be signed and the bond furnished within seven days after notification of the award of the contract. In case of failure of the bidder, after such notification, to sign the contract and furnish the bond, the Owner at its option may determine that the bidder has abandoned the contract. Thereupon the proposal and acceptance shall be null and void, and the Owner shall be at liberty to make other contracts with other parties for the work as the Owner sees fit. The deposit accompanying the abandoned proposal shall become the property of the Owner and shall be retained as liquidated damages and full compensation for all loss, damage and delay caused by the failure of the bidder to sign the contract and execute the bond within the time allowed.

All principal and such minor subcontractors as listed in the Contractor's proposal form shall deliver, to the Architects, copies of all bids sent to the General Contractors. The bids shall be in sealed opaque envelopes plainly marked on the outside with the name of the project and the bidder as well as the names of those General Contractors to whom the bid is delivered.

All such bids shall be in the possession of the Architects and delivered or mailed to the General Contractors by 2:00 P.M. on Friday, September 26, 1958.

The names of these sub-bidders who have filed their bids will be sent to the General Contractors bidding on the project. No bids of sub-contractors other than those included in the Architects' list shall be used by the General Contractor in his proposal.

It is the intention of the Owner to award the contract to the lowest qualified and responsible bidder, but the Bank reserves the right to reject any or all bids and to award the contract to the bidder deemed best for the interest of the Bank. No bids shall be withdrawn for a period of thirty days subsequent to the time set for their receipt without the consent of the Bank.

Plans and specifications may be seen at the Architects' office, the Bank, Dodge Reports and Gaine's Construction Newsletter.

2 Transfers Asked From March Funds

The Board of Public Works will ask town meeting to transfer funds for two purposes, when the special session is called Oct. 6.

By vote of the Board, an article will be inserted asking a transfer of $5,000 from the Ballardvale bridge fund to Shawsheen rd. funds. Members felt that this amount will be needed to finish retaining walls and other work left undone to date.

The second article will seek a transfer of $3,000 from the bridge fund to Ballardvale rd. fund — to allow completion of the road project this year.

It was explained that the bridge money is ample to allow the transfers and maintain a balance sufficient to meet expenses of rebuilding the bridge. That work is scheduled to start this fall and continue into next year, under state control.

At the same special meeting, the Board will also ask voter approval of two betterment assessment articles which were turned down at the meeting last March. One would substitute a one-third — two-thirds apportionment of the assessments, compared to the one-quarter — three-quarters method now in use. The second allows betterment assessments against estates for installation of trunk sewer lines, when the property is benefitted.

Pre-School Opens Monday Morning

Mothers of children enrolled in the cooperative nursery school, which will open for the first time next Monday morning, met Wednesday evening with the teacher, Mrs. Thayer Warshaw, for a period of orientation.

In the school mothers will take turns as teacher-assistant, so Wednesday's discussion gave them a chance to learn a lot of the "how's" and "do's" of pre-school education. Meeting in the Lower Parish Hall of the Free Christian Church, where the children will come to school, there was opportunity to see the room, its equipment, and its storage area, as well as to learn the ropes of "housekeeping" and snack-serving.

This was not the first gathering of the Free Church Co-Op Pre-School mothers. In fact, in recent weeks they have been gathering frequently to finish preparing equipment and play yard. Arriving many mornings soon after breakfast, the mothers, under the guidance of Mrs. Norman Viehmann, equipment chairman, have prepared fence posts, swing sets, and sand box for installation. And with the help of their children, who also attend the work parties, they have sanded and painted dozens of boxes and crates which, when finished, become hollow building blocks and shelving, respectively. Last Saturday morning and Sunday afternoon found numerous fathers doing the heavy labor involved in turning what was previously an unused piece of land into a safe and attractive playground for youngsters.

Friday morning, children and parents may attend an "Open House" at the school between 10 and 11:30 a.m. This will give the children an opportunity to meet their teacher and their classmates and to see their school as it really will be when it is in session.

Accountants Meet At Country Club

Members of the Merrimack Valley Chapter of National Association of Accountants will meet tonight at the Andover Country Club for a dinner meeting.

Allen Keller, manager of Operations Research and Synthesis of the General Electric Company, West Lynn, will be guest speaker, his subject being "Cash Flow". Frederick Carleton, chairman for the evening, will introduce the speaker.

Recently elected members of the Merrimack Valley Chapter are John S. Stott of Lawrence, associated with New England Foundry Corporation; and Richard F. Gould of Lawrence, associated with Watts Regulator Company.

Andover members active in NAA are Clifton E. Allen, John H. Barrington, Harold C. Goddard Jr., Wallace M. Haselton and Charles A. Therrien.
